OUTING - Wednesday 17th JUNE 1987
PILKINGTON GLASS MUSEUM

Admission to the museum is free. The coach cost works out at £1.00 each return. We leave the village at 6.45, from outside the Midland Bank, returning at approximately 9.30pm.

The museum is self-explanatory, and there is no conducted tour. A floorplan is available at Display-1 to give visitors a guide to the route they should follow.

The museum does not have a "shop". It does have a sales counter where visitors can purchase a small selection of glassware and various publications related to glass making. Most of the glassware sold from the sales counter is not made by Pilkingtons. The sales counter closes fifteen minutes before the museum closes.

As the numbers are restricted - "first come first served"! Phone 428-5442 to reserve your tickets.

JULY MEETING - Tuesday 21st July 1987
My Life at Speke Hall
Mr Tom Watmore

A talk from personal memories from one who has actually lived at Speke Hall for twenty years.
